

Subscription Policy

This Cookie Policy (the "Policy") explains what cookies are, what types of cookies are placed on your device when you visit Art of feelings and how we use them. This policy also governs our use of similar technologies, including web beacons.

This Cookie Policy does not address how we deal with your personal data generally. To learn more about how we process your personal data, please see Privacy Policy.

What are cookies

Cookies are small text files that are sent to or accessed from your web browser or your device's memory. A cookie typically contains the name of the domain (internet location) from which the cookie originated, the "lifetime" of the cookie and a randomly generated unique number or similar identifier. A cookie also may contain information about your device, such as user settings, browsing history and activities conducted while using Art of feelings.

There are different types of cookies:

Session cookies

Session cookies expire at the end of your browser session. Art of feelings uses these cookies to help you use our website more efficiently, by allowing us to learn more about how you use our website during one single browser session.

Persistent cookies

Persistent cookies are not automatically deleted when you close your browser. These types of cookies are used in order to help you sign-in to our website quickly and for analytical purposes.

First-party cookies

First-party cookies are placed on your device directly by us. These cookies are used to adapt our website to your browser's language preferences and to better understand your use of our website.

Third-party cookies

Third party cookies are placed on your device by our service providers, which helps us provide you both a satisfying and safe experience on our website. We do not have control over cookies placed on your device by third parties. Generally, we use the following types of third party cookies: security cookies; analytical cookies; and advertising cookies.

We do not permit any of the service providers to collect any of your personal data on Art of feelings to utilize for their own purposes. These service providers are subject to confidentiality agreements with us and/or other legal restrictions on their use or collection of any personal information. Third-party cookies are covered by the third-parties' privacy policies. Therefore, should you have any questions regarding use of the cookies by third parties, please contact them directly.

For more information on third-party advertising cookies, interest-based advertising, and how to opt-out of that practice by companies participating in industry self-regulation, please visit the relevant websites, such as Digital Advertising Alliance or Interactive Digital Advertising Alliance.

Similar technologies

Web Beacons

Web beacons are graphic images (also known as "pixel tags") that contain a unique identifier enabling us to recognize when someone has visited Art of feelings or opened an e-mail that we or our service provider have sent them.

Software development kits (SDKs)

SDKs are small pieces of code included in apps, which function like cookies and web beacons.

Why do we need cookies?

When you visit or interact with Art of feelings, we or our service providers may use cookies, web beacons, and other similar technologies in order to learn more about your interactions with our Service. The utilization of these technologies can help us provide you with a better, faster, and safer experience.
